Military community goes green

The Base now has recycling bins for paper, cardboard, glass, metal cans and plastic milk jugs located in the Canex parking lot.

The Regional District of Comox-Strathcona Solid Waste Management Department initiated the project and is very appreciative of the support from the Wing Commander, Canex Management and the Wing Environmental Officer.

The new recycling bins are part of a pilot project to determine the feasibility of recycling in this area. If the pilot project is a success, then the Regional District will continue to maintain the program.

Before recycling your newspapers, etc., please note the following:

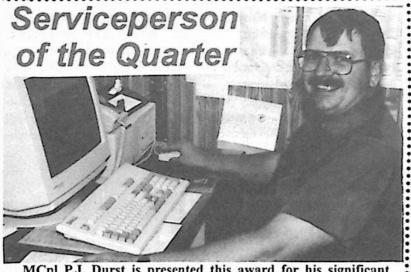

• When throwing out newspapers and magazines, discard the perfumed inserts and magazine covers.

- Leave labels on glass containers but discard their lids.
- •Metal cans are to be rinsed, labels removed, and squeezed shut at the top.
- Cardboard items include egg cartons, box board and corrugated cardboard.
- Presently, the only accepted plastic is the plastic milk jugs which should be rinsed and without their lids.

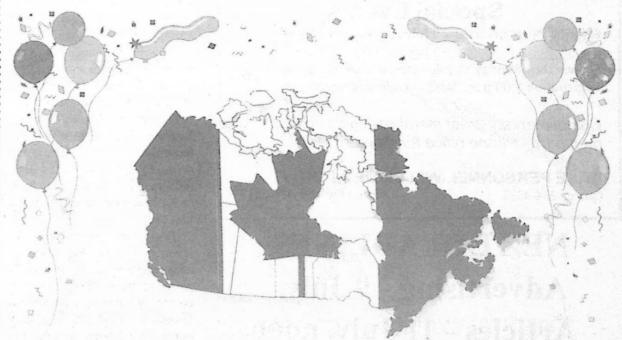

If the bins are too full to accept recyclables please do not leave them at the site - bring them back another time after the bin has been emptied. In order for the program to be a success, community cooperation is necessary to keep the area clean and the different recyclables properly prepared and segregated.

MCpl P.J. Durst is presented this award for his significant contribution to 19 Wing during the second quarter of 1997. As the Crew Chief of the Automated Information System section, MCpl Durst has become the focal point for the majority of ADP-related activities at 19 Wing. He demonstrated a level of initiative, skill, dedication and professionalism that was instrumental for the planning and coordination of the upgrade to ail Wing PC workstations, the issue of newly acquired hardware, and the implementation of the new departmental desktop operating system and office automation suite. His involvement extends beyond his normally assigned duties and encompasses all aspects of military life by being an active member of the MQ community. (Photo by Base Photo)

In the past few weeks we have had some questions concerning the new policies of marchin/march-out procedures. Although only a little has changed, there are a few differences. The best way to become informed of the new way of doing things is to either come in to our office and have a talk, or to give us a call at 339-1947 and we will be glad to answer any questions that you may have.

Some of the most common questions are about the premarch-out inspection and the varying amounts of cleaning to be done during the march-out. Both are quite simple to answer.

The pre-inspection, which is done approximately 60 days prior to the actual march-out, identifies how much work in general has to be done to the unit, if there is any damage that the occupant will be held responsible for and, basically, how fast we can turn the unit over.

During the pre-marchout inspection, it can be identified to the occupant how much cleaning is going to be needed. This, of course, is dependent on several factors, the main one being how much we are going to do to the unit. In the past it was required that major cleaning be done prior to sending in tradesmen to do the necessary repairs. That is not the case now. There is no sense in waxing a floor that is going to be ripped up. Also, people are allowed to either do their own cleaning, or to hire cleaners if they wish. Because of our contract policy, we do not keep a list of cleaners for hire at this time. However, we are looking at ways of providing this information in

That is all for now from CFHA. Hope you have a great summer and, if you are one of the chosen few, a great move.

Union of DND Employees presents bursaries

In May 1984, the members of Union of National Defence Employees (UNDE) Local 1007, CFB Comox, set up two bursaries of $200 each, later increased to $300 each. The bursaries are intended to assist graduating students from Highland and Georges P. Vanier Secondary Schools with their studies in a vocational field.

The successful applicants must show an aptitude in their chosen field and a scholastic standing of at least a grading of "C." All students entering schools such as BCIT, Malaspina, Camouson, etc., may apply. However, preference is given to dependants of members of UNDE Local 1007.

The members of UNDE Local 1007 are pleased to announce the bursary recipients for 1997:

Three nembers of the 19 Wing Our Lady of the Sacred Chapel are preparing to attend the 12th World Youth Day conference being held in Paris, 18-24 August, 1997. The Comox Valley contingent consists of the following three members from the Wing chapel: Margaret Peeron, Jean Traynor and Leslie Wenzel.

The three women will be departing 10 Aug and returning home 29 Aug, with short stopovers in Trenton both ways to get acquainted with other Canadian military delegates. The participants will commence their pilgrimage in Lourdes, France where they will stay with French military personnel for three days. Their journey will continue on to Paris where the World Youth Day conference begins on 18 Aug. There will be conferences scheduled throughout the week. Although there are several seminars throughout the week, there will still be plenty of opportunity for all participants to explore Paris. To end the week, Pope John Paul II will celebrate Mass with the

Although the military is sponsoring the event, the participants have to pay for their conference fees, which cost $900.00 for each member. The three women started fundraising with a successful Garage Sale and are continuing their fundraising efforts on Sunday, 29 June with a Coffee House Music Revue. The revue will start at 1400 hrs at the Officers' Mess and all are welcome. The line-up for the afternoon includes a classical guitarist, a string quartet, the Catholic Church Choir and some children's performances. There will be refreshments served through-

Get ready to RUN

THURSDAY 26 JUNE 1997

Here's your chance to do it! Yes, July 1st is coming and one of the best chances we have to test ourselves will be by entering the Fun Run. Many, many people here in the Comox Valley are into improving their health by walking or running. We do it once in a while when we feel like it or we are the dedicated every morning at 7 a.m. types. Some of us are getting this exercise running to school or work - whatever - July 1st should be on your calendar.

The Fun Run happens as a preliminary event to the Canada Day parade. It is co-sponsored by the Comox Valley Road Runners and the July 1st Committee. This year the run will be on Tuesday morning July 1st. There is NO ENTRY FEE, the only requirement is that each person signs a waiver of responsibility. Each person who registers at the start of the race on Woods Avenue and Fifth Street will be given a Canada Day pin and ribbon. These will be your ticket to participate in the measured mile run.

This event is very exciting. It is open to all age groups. There will be some very fast times, helped in no little way by the fact that the one mile course is set all down hill! Many people will be coming out because of the fact that they can get an official time for running an exactly measured mile. The Comox Valley Roadrunners will have available a timing device able to measure each runner and give them their time.

runner and give them their time.

Last year Scott Sexton was fastest runner, with a time of 4 min 32 seconds. The fastest woman to run was Marguerite Masson-Wood. Perpetual trophies are awarded to the first man to cross the line and to the first woman to cross the line. Everybody who participates in the race will be welcome to share in drinks and food which will be provided and there will be some great prizes to be drawn for as well.

Registration will take place just before the race begins - 9:30 to 10:15 a.m. at the take-off point, which will be near the corner of Woods Avenue and Fifth Street.

This is a unique event. It is just for fun - no cost to the runner and everyone is encouraged to come and try their best. As there will be people running at many levels of expertise we ask all spectators to NOT BLOCK THE ROUTE and stay on the sidewalks. Let the run be as safe and enjoyable as possible!

What's new at the Gym

Allow me to introduce myself; I am the reincarnation of the Wing Physical Education and Recreation Officer (WPERO). My name is Ms. Bobbi Howard (vice Capt) and my new title is Fitness, Sports and Recreation Director. My staff and I have undergone dramatic changes in the past few months with the elimination of the PE&R branch and the standup of the new Personnel Support Agency in Ottawa, which replaced DPERA. Some of the PERIs are continuing their military careers in other classifications, while others were given an early retirement. The new FS&R staff at 19 Wing are all ex-PERIs with an abundance of experience. In the next several weeks you will be introduced to each one as they tell you about their area of exper-how we came to form this staff.

The five full-time NPF positions that replaced the military positions are classified as Category II and are funded by Ottawa. Each of us was required to compete for the jobs we now hold. PERIs and PEROs from all over Canada were allowed to apply for whichever position, or positions, they wanted. Each base shortlisted four or five individuals who were then interviewed by

The hiring process was a new experience for those of us who have been in the military for most of our working lives. At the conclusion of this stressful procedure, I became the administrator of this newly does not differ very much from my previous position as WPERO. I oversee the PE&R programmes and facilities at 19 Wing with the assistance of a full-time NPF staff of four, as well as numerous parttime and casual employees. Professionally, the most noticeable modification is the direct supervision of four individuals instead of one. I have coordinators for each of the major areas of responsibility: Facilities, Sports, Fitness and Recreation. These coordinators take care of the day to day operations and advise me regarding their area of responsibility. manage the NPF and public budgets, implement policy, work on long-term planning and liaise with Branch Heads and COs in the matters of FS&R. As you may have noticed, my order of dress has changed, not my man-

The transformation of the gymnasium staff has had an imperceptible effect on military members. The CF is still responsible for providing publicly supported facilities and FS&R activities to service members. My staff and I will do our part by continuing to provide a high level of service and commitment to 19 Wing in the future. We look forward to the continued support of all the sections and encourage everyone to take advantage of the many programmes offered to the military community through the new Fitness, Sports and Recreation organization.

As part of the continuing introduction of your new Fitness Sports and Recreation Staff, I would like to first introduce myself to those of you who are new to the area and also to those whom I never had the pleasure of having been formerly introduced to.

I enjoyed a very rewarding and satisfying 19 year career in both the Regular Force and Reserves of the CAF in both the Communication and Physical Education fields, attaining the rank of WO and finishing off right here in Comox as the former Senior PERI.

A recycling depot right on our own doorstep. Now that's progress! I'm sure you've all noticed by now the green bins in the parking lot by Canex. They're not all that pretty, but I've seen a lot uglier too. It's the second in a series of four pilot projects by the Regional District for the collection of recyclable materials. If they're successful, and I'm sure they will be, then a further 15 such stations will be located throughout the district. Fifteen stations for an area that stretches from Denman Island to Zeballos is not all that many so I think we should consider ourselves fortunate to have one less than one kilometer from the PMQs. Bob Allan, the Environmental Officer is the person responsible for getting us this station, along with the enthusiastic support of the Wing Commander, and I think he deserves praise for his success against other interested parties who actively sought to win this station for themselves. Scoff if you will, but it really is difficult to get something like this away from the core of the valley's population and there was considerable good will generated on Mr. Allan's part to win out against all other contenders. Now, use it or lose it.

Joel Clarkston

(The following letter has been received by Wing Commander, Col B.B. MacLean.)

Dear Sir:

I wanted to write as a Winnipegger and a Manitoban to express my heartfelt thanks to the personnel of your wing who came east to help us in our "Flood of the Century" fight recently. I personally was fortunate not to have my property affected, but I certainly know people who were, and the loss inflicted on many of my fellow Manitobans is no less painful to me. It has been a stressful time for all of us, whether for those who have suffered damage or those of us who have tried hard to help prevent it. Nevertheless, we'll get through this episode and move forward, and I, for one, really am grateful for the steady support offered by Canada's armed forces - including the good people of 19 Wing - to help keep us going.

The work performed by your personnel may not have been as visible to us here in Winnipeg (though I became very used to the "rotary wake-up call" in the mornings!). Rest assured, though, that everyone who contributed in the effort provided a most valuable and necessary service. Thankfully, the absolute worst-case scenario did not materialize, but there would have been no lack of preparation. I hesitate to single out anyone by name for fear I'll leave somebody out, so for those who were in the air (perhaps plying their trade over this "prairie ocean" was a somewhat novel experience) and those who helped on the ground in whatever capacity, I offer my hearty gratitude. I also want to thank all those who supported the deployment from "back home" in Comox, for an operation needs them for it to run smoothly. Finally, for the families of those who came to Manitoba your loved ones have made a difference and it is much appreciated. Nobody would ever wish for circumstances such as the Red River flood of 1997 to make history. Nevertheless, I hope your personnel are looking back at their role in the largest domestic peacetime operation with a lot of pride and satisfaction. I'm delighted that the whole of Canada has been seeing what I've aiways known to be true, that our men and women in uniform are among the most dedicated and loyal citizens our country can produce.

Again, many thanks for a job well done.

Sincerely, Nancy Holm

10,000 flying hours!

A milestone was achieved recently when MWO Joe Lapointe accumulated the rare feat of 10,000 hours (1.14 years) while serving as a Flight Engineer in the Canadian Forces. To accomplish this feat, MWO Lapointe started his flying career in 1975 and has been an aircrew member on CH113 Labradors, CH113A Voyageurs, CC137 Boeing 707s and CP140 Auroras. On hand to present him with a certificate, signed by the Commanders of ATG and MAG, was our Wing Commander, Col B.B. MacLean. From the CO, officers and NCMs of 407 Sqn. we salute MWO Lapointe on achieving this milestone in military Re: Terry Fox Foundation letter to the Minister of National Defence.

In a recent letter sent to MND, the International Director of the foundation expressed deep gratitude for the CF/DND past support of the annual Terry Fox Run. The letter underlined that the involvement of all CF personnel, whether from an organizational or participation perspective, is critical in the success of this programme.

In 1996, the participation of Canadian Forces personnel, both in Canada and abroad, helped the Terry Fox Foundation boost the total monies raised for cancer research by 14% over the funds raised in 1995. This increase directly reflects the commitment of CF personnel to the programme.

On behalf of the minister and the A/CDS, thank you for your continuing support of this most worthwhile endeavour. Tuesday

We will have some visitors to the squadron for the next two months. Six AERE Practical Phase Trainees (PPTs) will be at 19 Wing, two of whom will work for 407 Sqn. 19 AMS

The 19 AMS CO, Maj Bourget, was busy this month doing the old "grip and grin" thing presenting several awards, commendations and certificates to deserving members of the squadron.

With the expiration of the 12 year Statute of Limitations on all unsolved and undetected crimes, CD medals were presented to MCpl Dunn, MCpl Maye, MCpl Reese and Cpl Forget.

For his participation in cavorting throughout Haiti for six months, Cpl Barnes was the recipient of the UNMIH and UNSMIH clasps for the UN medal

CO's Commendations were awarded to Sgt Coates for his quick action and first aid skills which saved the life of the squadron's favourite guppy, and to Cpl Sellsted for the exceptional work he did during IOC training.

For his involvement in drugs (Drug Awareness Week, that is), MCpl Staples received a Certificate of Appreciation. Finally, for his suggestion on how to build a better cog or sprocket, or something, Cpl Webb received a Suggestion Award and the first of many (so he hopes) royalty cheques.

Congratulations to all the recipients.

In the last issue all the departing members were bid a fond adieu, bon voyage and, in the case of WO Cook, a good riddance (from the SWO's perspective anyway). Jim's presence (not to mention his constant reminder that he does have access to weapons and a water tower) will be missed at the Wednesday morn ing coffee breaks ... yep.

At this time we would like to welcome to the squadron some of the new members who have started to filter in. WO Denis Cormier and Cpl Emile Guimond have both just arrived from CFB Bagotville and will be employed in the Wg Arm't and Avs Labs Sections, respectively. Also new to our squadron is Cpl Vandervoort, a Supply Tech reservist, who will work in our Inventory Control Section. Welcome, and we hope you enjoy your tour here. Until next time, Mens Sana In Congratulations!

MCpl Dunn receives his CD from Maj Bourget.

MCpl Maye, CD.

MCpl Reese, CD.

Cpl Webb, Suggestion Award.

Cops

by Cpl K.E. LeBlanc

Welcome back to Cops Corner. In this issue we would like to take the opportunity to congratulate the 19 Wing SAMP Flt Thunderbird Challenge Team.

As stated in the previous Totem Times, the Thunderbird Challenge is an annual Military Police competition held at 17 Wing Winnipeg, Manitoba. We are very pleased to say that this year 19 Wing had the best showing it has ever had since the inception of the competition here in Canada. This year's team consisted of team captain Cpl F. Perry (pistol/rifle/confidence course), Sgt M. Lunge (pistol), Cpl E. Niclaes (rifle/confidence course), LS D. Stevens (rifle/confidence course), and myself (pistol). As well, we were joined by MWO M. Baye, who had been invited as an official visitor, but who also worked as team motivator.

The week began with some training on the rather impressive Confidence Course, and I have never been so happy to be afraid of heights in my life. To this day, I don't know how some of the competitors got over those obstacles without getting nose bleeds from being so high off the ground. (That 40 foot ladder looks even higher from the bottom!)

The first event was the Confidence Course, which was rain delayed just prior to the Comox team competing. When our team finally got their chance the following evening, they did extremely well considering that, due to the delay, the majority of the team had just finished the rifle and pistol competitions on the same day.

Our rifle team placed second overall in this gruelling event, scoring just shy of the Winnipeg team (who, we might add, did have the home field advantage!). Special congratulations go out to our team captain, Cpl Frank Perry, for not only managing to keep his sanity trying to lead our group, but for managing to obtain the highest individual range score during the Combat Rifle event. This was no small accomplishment in an event with 48 competitors!

Not to be outdone, our pistol team also took second place during the competition, again being beaten by the narrowest of margins by the first place team from 8 Wing Trenton.

As if this were not enough from such a small SAMP Flt, we weren't done yet. Four of our members will be returning to Winnipeg to compete for a spot on the National Team which will represent the CAF at the Peacekeeper Challenge, being hosted by the USAF Police in New Mexico. As only 18 MPs from across Air Command were invited back to vie for the nine positions on the team, we should be very proud of the fact that Comox has achieved four of those spots. We wish the very best to Cpls Perry and Niclaes and LS Stevens and Tucker. We will keep you posted on their progress.

MP's new look; if you don't want a closer view, don't speed!

WGCA Youth Baseball

by MCpl P. & Linda Durst Another great baseball season is over. On behalf of the WGCA we would like to thank all of the children for being great sportspersons and we hope that everyone had fun. We would also like to thank the umpires for their great calls, the scorekeepers for keeping up with the often fast-paced games, and our special thanks to all of the coaches, without whom we would not have been able to run this league. We would also like to thank the Recreational staff for allowing us to use the base diamonds and facilities. This allowed us to make this season the best one yet!

Linda and I are moving to Kingston this year and we wanted to thank everyone for helping us with this league. There is nothing better than seeing children laughing and having a good time, and we saw a lot of this during the season We wish everyone the best of luck and we hope that next year will be even better. Thank

US Air National Guards work on 19 AMS paint booth

THURSDAY 26 JUNE 1997

19 Wing once again is hosting a US Air National Guard (ANG) deployment of Civil Engineers as part of the bi-annual exchange with Canadian Airfield Engineer Flights (AEFs). The exchange program is to exercise a deployable engineer capability and develop interoperability between allied nations. This year, the AEF from Comox deployed to Detroit, Michigan in April. The 171st Civil Engineer Sqn (CES) from Pittsburgh are here for a two week period and will soon be followed by the 150th CES from Kirtland, New Mexico.

While here, the ANG are working on the long-awaited 19 AMS Paint Spray Shop. Phase I of the project, consisting of the foundation and steel superstructure, was performed by the contractor who worked madly to meet the deadline. The ANG will be doing most of the interior work, such as erecting interior walls, running power, heat, plumbing and ventilation connections. The last phase of work will consist of the installation of the paint spray booth and finishing ventilation work by the contrac-

Keeping with the AEF practice of working hard and playing hard, the Pittsburgh Steelers wasted no time in exploring the beauty of the Comox Valley. So far, they've been fishing, golfing, touring and sampling the local dining establishments. They've even thrown down the gauntlet on the softball diamond; watch TSN for a complete report. So, next time you see someone on base in an unfamiliar uniform, make them welcome; they're a friendly bunch and are helping 19 Wing work safer painting aircraft. Chimo!

Learn to be compatible with your workstation

You may think to be comfortable and productive in your office environment are contradictions, but they are not. You will ask how can you accomplish this? To work in comfort and increase productivity, you need to improve your ergonomic work environment, this simply means making your workstation fit you and the tasks you perform.

The theme of COSH Week was "A Factor of Productivity." Vivian E. Oliver, of Pacific Rim Consulting Co., focused in on "Productivity through Workstation Ergonomics." Mrs. Oliver stated "With proper workstation ergonomics, you will see a marked reduction in work related injuries, such as repetitive strain injury, carpal tunnel syndrome, and eye strain. Statistics recently released by the Canadian/American Optometric Association stated that 60-80 percent of all regular computer users are experiencing severe eye strain, RSI and CTS. The report also stated that the number one health hazard in the industry today continues to be eye strain and muscle fatigue."

Another report Mrs. Oliver referred to stated "According to figures supplied by the Workers' Compensation Boards of British Columbia and Ontario, carpal tunnel syndrome claims cost a total of an astounding $12,000,000 and result in an overall average of 89.2 lost work days per claim each year. Personalized workstation evaluations are giving workers the proper work habits and are enriching their time in the workplace with higher productivity, morale and safety."

Valley youth produce "Road Sense" videos

Over 100 people showed up for the premiere of three ICBC sponsored youth projects. Lee Dixon, one of the youths involved with the Comox Military Family Resource Centre project, was the MC for the evening's events and did a tremendous job of keeping the program flowing smoothly. Col MacLean, Wing Commander, started the evening off by welcoming everyone and then talking about these young people and their roles as our future lead-

Tom Corsie, Public Relations, Steve Felson, Manager for the Courtenay Claims Office, and Brian Thurber, representative for the North Island Native Community, from ICBC were then introduced and spoke on the importance of getting involved in the community and projects such as the Youth Road Sense Project. Lee Dixon then introduced Wedlidi Speck and Gale Lewis who are members from the Wachaiy Friendship Centre. They proceeded to give out the poster-contest prizes. The native theme and design of the artwork involved in the posters was of exceptional quality.

Lee Dixon then introduced the premiere showing of two "Road Sense" video projects which were produced by youth from the Comox Military Family Resource Centre and Robb Road Junior School.

Matt Bolduc (the lead and stunt guy in "Road Hog") introduced the first video project, which consisted of three short and very powerful Public Service Announcemnts (PSA). "Road Hog" was a graphic but very humour-ous piece involving sharing the road between cars and bicycles. This was followed by "Lucky One" a poignant chronological sequence of a vehicle accident, from the opening sounds of the crash through to the young bereaved son of the drinking driver leaving his father's grave side; being pushed in a wheelchair. The final sequence was "Don't Ride with Drunk Drivers," a short piece showing many wrecked vehicles and then a scene of a survivor in a wheelchair imploringd viewers "Please, don't ride with drunk drivers." The other budding thespians involved in the three videos were: Lee Dixon, Tyler Barnes, Kristen Chadney and David Potvin

Sue Rose, a Drug and Alcohol Prevention Youth Worker, opened the Robb Road video presentation. This video is an extremely powerful training video that has the storyline involving a TV news special which focuses on many aspects of drinking driving. The 18 minute video starts off with a news brief that introcheck and a demonstration on the procedures, from the road-side screening device to booking into jail cells, that are involved in filing a Drinking and Driving Charge. The video goes on to interview a nurse, a coroner and several victims of accidents involving drinking and driving. These particular scenes carry a very potent message from the survivors and their families. In one scene, Paul Giles, who was a Canadian Snowbird Air Demonstration Team pilot, and his mother talk candidly about life before and after the accident where Paul was a passenger and received permanent brain injuries. It took a great deal of caring and courage for Paul and his mother to share the tragedies and triumphs of their lives since the accident. This video should be a "must view" for anyone convicted of Driving Wedlidi Speck and Joanne Restoule-Speck, Gale Lewis and the poster contest judges led the audience in a native song of celebration to bring the premiere to an end. Lee Dixon then closed the festivities by inviting everyone for refreshments in the lounge.

To paraphrase Col MacLean, if these young people are our future leaders, and the examples for our future leaders, we will be in good

TUCSDAY MORNING LADICS

June 17 dawned windy and rainy but after five holes it turned out quite pleasant and a few decided to go the distance.

Duane Miles carded a Low Gross of 85, Low Net was tied at 71 (shared by Kay Banks and Marg Rushton) and Low Putts went to Jan Verbeek with only 33.

The invasion of #15 continues - on June 13, using her #9 wood, Shirley Wallis aced it. That's three holes-in-one within a month. Well done, Shirley.

Welcome to Marg Rushton who has joined the Tuesday morning Ladies. We hope you will enjoy golfing with us.

Our thanks to Arbordale Nurseries who adorned our clubhouse with beautiful hanging baskets.

MP/RCMP Golf & Fish for Blind Children's Fund

by Ted Sauvé, Tournament Chairman

Over $2,000 was raised for the Military Police Fund for Blind Children as the 19 Wing Comox Military Police Section hosted the 14th Annual Western Canada MP/RCMP Golf Tournament and Fishing Derby from 29-31 May. Military Police participation was limited to Comox, CFB Esquimalt and SIU Victoria, due to the Thunderbird Challenge in Winnipeg. RCMP members attended from Courtenay, Campbell River, Nanaimo, Duncan, Victoria, Port Alberni, Surrey, Richmond, Vancouver and Burnaby. Retired police attended from Comox, Courtenay, Cumberland, Nanaimo, Bowser, Port Hardy, Victoria, Vancouver, Chilliwack and Edmonton.

The weather in the weeks preceding this year's tournament was just gorgeous in the Comox Valley. However, when 30 May rolled around the skies were dark and rain was threatening. The morning draw got most of their round of golf in but it started to rain as most golfers had only two holes left. The afternoon draw started in light rain that steadily got worse and the course was finally closed due to too much water on the greens. Most golfers got 12-13 holes and their scores

Prize presentations and a BBQ were held at the Golf Club and the Canadian Military Police Association Trophy was awarded this year to 19 Wing Comox. We congratulate the team of MCpl Brian Chasse, WO Gary Kirkland, Cpl Mike Rogers and L/S Stevce Choquette who had a combined score of 292 using the Calloway Handi-

So, who are you and what do we call you now?

I think this is the question I get asked now more than ever since the transition. I am now called the Fitness Sports and Recreation Facility Coordinator. (Whew! That's a bigger handle than I had when I was still in.) In short, the Fac. Coord (or Complaint Dept.). I work under the direction of the Fitness Sports and Recreation Director, formerly Capt Roberta Howard, now Bobbi. It is my job to manage and maintain all the sports facilities, supervise and manage Sports Stores, gym monitors, arena staff and the outdoor facilities attendant. I further provide guidance and advice on the requirement, design and construction of fitness and sports facilities, field all your complaints and try my very best to rectify them as soon as possible.

As far as what do you call me now, "Mike" will do just fine and loc 8690 is still my local. I must

Your FS&R Staff

Sorry for any inconvience-admit, now that the initial shock of not being in uniform is over, the hardest thing is trying to remember not to answer the phone with WO before my name and, of course, even harder is having to have my wife dress me in the morning. I can truly say I am looking forward to the challenge of this new position. The staff that has been hired to fulfill your FS&R needs are some of the best that ever served. Please don't think we just walked into these jobs. The few positions that were offered came in the way of a cross country open competition with as many as 28 applicants applying for each of the jobs here in Comox. After the initial screening, there were four days of interviews in front of a gruelling, non smiling, sour faced panel of supposed experts. (Whoops, I'd better stop - I'm still on probation.) When the smoke cleared there was talk, and I concur, that Comox has probably the best all around staff in the field. We, speaking for the staff, are still keen, interested, open and dedicated in offering you and your families everything possible in our chosen profession. With the expected changes in the future at 19 Wing and now a staff dedicated to a specific department, the programs will still continue, now even better than ever. Drop in and tral facilitator, the participants got to know each other, shared their perspectives of the project, and eventually built a team with a common purpose. What was particularly surprising was that assumptions made by each side that led to suspicion were false, and that many goals were actually shared. For example, when listing aims of the project, the general contractor indicated foremost that he wanted to give the end user an excellent product. Equally surprising to the contractor was the indication from NDHQ that the contractors should make a fair and reasonable profit for their services. These appear to be ob-

The user was able to communicate directly with the builder to describe exactly in her words what the end result should be. As Tom Wilson, mechanical designer from Keen Engineering said, "This meeting was beneficial because it allowed me to look at the project from other perspectives." The DND reps from 19 Wing and NDHQ were able to develop a rapport and trust with the consultant and the contractor. After completing the seminar, Larry Champagne, the contractor's site supervisor, indicated that "we will certainly endorse this approach for the project and for all future jobs." Hopefully, the spirit shown by all parts of the team will carry on through to successful project completion in March of 1998. Stay tuned.

"Put me in coach, I'm hot"

The following article is reprinted from the June 1983 issue of Airforce magazine.

It was the low point of WWII.
The Germans were solidly in control in Europe and the Japanese were moving against North America.

On 27 May '42 the United States asked for assistance and the RCAF immediately dispatched 111(F) and 8(BR) Squadrons to Yakutat in Southern Alaska. From there they were ordered to Anchorage on 5 June. This was the day of the Japanese carrier strike on Dutch Harbour, which was followed the next few days by the occupation of Kiska and Attu in the Alentians.

The two Canadian squadrons were formed into "X" Wing under command of W/C Gordon R. McGregor, veteran of the Battle of Britain with five victories. McGregor, an energetic and able man, later became president of Trans Canada Airlines. Not only did he command the wing and carry out liaison duties, he still thought of himself as a fighter pilot and he flew with 111 Sqn at every opportunity.

Once settled in at Elmendorf, the squadron immediately undertook its primary role - providing interceptor defence of the Anchorage region. The unit was flying Kittyhawks, or what the American's called P-40s. The air to ground communications were pitiful and the Winco took the RT set from one of the temporarily unserviceable Kittyhawks and used it for the aerodrome control tower.

The Kittyhawks were not equipped with long range auxiliary tanks, which restricted them to defensive employment. This upset McGregor, who wrote on 30 June '42: "It is certain that the greatest care will be taken to ensure that the Canadian squadrons will not see action if it is possible to place U.S. squadrons in such action, even if the said U.S. squadrons are much more recent arrivals in Alaska than the components of this wing."

While the Canadians remained in their defensive role, the Japanese garrisoned the two islands and were operating Zero float planes, known as Rufes, from Kiska.

After considerable agitation, W/C McGregor got his wish and, early in July, 111 Sqn was ordered to move 12 Kittyhawks, 21 pilots and 60 ground crew to Umnak, the most advanced U.S. base in the Aleutians.

Seven Kittyhawks, accompanied by additional pilots and ground crew in U.S. transport, left Anchorage on 11 July. Two a/c were lost enroute and additional planes arrived in time for the final stage from Cold Lake to Umnak.

A trick of nature gives the Aleutians what pilots swear is the world's worst weather. The warm Japanese current skirts the islands on the Pacific side. On the other side is the black, cold, Bering Sea. These two bodies come together around the islands and that means fog layers almost as high as you can go. Where those layers of ground fog stop, the clouds commence.

This, combined with the peaks and ridges of these volcanic islands, makes flying extremely hazardous. In fact, flying accidents were more damaging than the enemy.

Thus it was that on the last leg of the move to Umnak the seven Kittyhawks, flying in a tight formation, were caught in a sudden fog with fading radios. One pilot slowly swerved off course, breaking the formation, and was lost at sea. Four others, thrown off course, crashed into the face of a mountain. Only W/C McGregor and one pilot got their fighters through to Umnak.

At Umnak the U.S. fighter squadrons were up to strength in a/c but were short of experienced pilots. Therefore it was decided not to bring the rest of 111 Sqn Kittyhawks from Anchorage but to leave them there with a few pilots while the advance party at Umnak would fly U.S. aircraft.

Umnak was still too far from the Japanese base on Kiska for the P-40s so the Canadians still were out of the action their Winco so earnestly craved. In early September, a new advanced U.S. base was completed on Akak putting the Japanese at last within reach of the P-40.

S/L Ken Boomer, a native of Ottawa and veteran of the Battle of Britain, was the new CO, replacing S/L Kerwin who was one of those killed enroute to Umnak. He obtained permission to have four RCAF pilots flying the borrowed P-40Ks join in a mission, as token Canadians.

The raid on Kiska got off on 25 September and while the RCAF fighters were engaged in neutralizing the enemy AA positions, S/L Boomer was able to zoom his P-40K beneath a Zero floatplane and shoot it down - the only Japanese aircraft ever to be destroyed by an RCAF unit. It also made Boomer the first Canadian to account for a German, Italian and Japanese plane.

S/L Boomer added to his laurels a few days later when he caught a Japanese submarine surfaced in Kiska harbour. He led his squadron down at it, flying into an enfilade of Japanese fire from the headlands that dominated the harbour.

"We poured so much 50 calibre stuff on to the decks of that thing it glowed red hot," he recalled. "Killed three different gun crews. The pilots didn't stick around. They just waited their turn and came down at it. Then they got out of there fast," Boomer told F/O David Griffin, a PR officer.

For this action S/L Boomer got the U.S. Air Force Medal to add to his British DFC. Air Force medals also went to F/O Jim Gohl and F/O Hal Gooding.

Eventually the U.S. Forces built an advanced base at Amchitak, within 75 miles of the enemy base at Kiska, but, after Boomer's kill of the Rufe, there were no further airplane to airplane engagements.

S/L Boomer relinquished command of 111 Sqn on 31 May '43. He returned overseas and was killed in action on 2 October '44.

Legendary Arrow flies again

(L-R): Cpl Mike Long and Cpl Mike Coles-Webb kneel beside a model of the Avro Arrow in front of the Comox Air Force Museum. The model that the two 19 AMS technicians will be working on is a lot bigger - a 1 to 1 actual size scale reproduction - and will be on display at the Abbotsford Air Show in July.

by Capt David Krayden Wing PAffO

For many pilots in Canada's Air Force, an opportunity to fly the legendary Avro Arrow is both a cherished but forlorn hope - an opportunity that will never come. The plane has entered the rarified atmosphere of Canadian mythology and is seen by many as something akin to the Lost Cause of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Aircraft maintainers share much the same passion for the legendary craft and wonder what it would have been like to keep the Arrow flying. Now two aircraft techs from 19 Wing will have that chance - almost. Two aircraft technicians from 19 Air Maintenance Sqn, Cpl Mike Long and Cpl Mike Coles-Webb, are in Abbottsford and have been selected to prepare a unique Arrow model for display at the annual air show there.

The actual size reproduction was used in the CBC film about the Arrow, which documented the dramatic rise and mysterious fall of the Canadian designed and manufactured jet, reputed to be the best in the world at the time of its still-born production in 1959. The model was damaged during production and now requires substantial maintenance prior to the July airshow date. So corporals Long and Coles-Webb are off to the mainland to begin their work.

"It isn't every day you have a chance to work on a plane like this," says Cpl Long. "I guess you'd have to say this is something of a privilege."
